

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

TRG
Docket No: 2015-01
11 October 2001

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of Title 10 of the United States Code section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 10 October 2001. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You enlisted in the Navy on 4 April 2000 at age 27. Subsequently, because you expressed suicidal ideation during recruit training, you were referred to a mental health care professional. On 8 May 2000 you were evaluated and were diagnosed with a personality disorder. The evaluation stated that you had spent a great deal of time requesting assistance in order to leave recruit training. The psychologist believed that your condition adversely affected your potential to perform your duties and responsibilities, and recommended your separation from the Navy.

Based on the psychiatric evaluation, you were processed for separation from the Navy. In connection with this processing, you elected to waive your procedural rights. Subsequently, the separation authority directed an entry level separation by reason of erroneous enlistment and you were so separated on 17 May 2000. At that time you were not recommended for reenlistment and were assigned an RE-4 reenlistment code.

You state in your application that you wanted to leave recruit training so that you could solve some personal problems. You claim that those problems are now solved and you desire to reenlist in the military.

Regulations allow for the assignment of an RE-4 reenlistment code when an individual is separated by reason of erroneous enlistment. Such a code is normally assigned when an individual is separated prior to completing recruit training after being diagnosed with a personality disorder that interfered with the ability to perform military duties. Since you have been treated no differently than others in your situation, the Board could not find an error or injustice in the assignment of the RE-4 reenlistment code.

Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
