

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

TRG
Docket No: 5316-08
9 February 2009

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

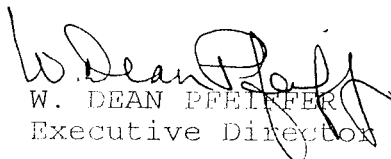

This is in reference to your application, DD Form 149, dated 14 May 2008.

A review of your record reveals that most of the documentation from your second enlistment including the long copy of the DD Form 214 and your last performance evaluations are not filed in your digital record. This may have happened because your field record was never sent to the Navy Personnel Command (NPC) from the command from which you were discharged. The available record shows that you were charged with a period of unauthorized absence and received nonjudicial punishment for another offense. Because of the absence of records, the Board cannot verify the actual reenlistment code you were assigned at the time of your discharge on 17 March 2006. In response to a request from the Board, you stated that you do not have the DD Form 214 showing the separation and reenlistment code.

As indicated in the enclosure, NPC states that you were assigned the correct separation and reenlistment codes. NPC also states that your reenlistment code is RE-6 and that you should be able to seek reenlistment with another branch of the service. An RE-6 reenlistment code is authorized when an individual is ineligible or denied reenlistment because of high year tenure (HYT). Since you had completed eight years of service and were still serving in paygrade E-4 it appears that you did not meet the HYT requirement. NPC also states that the amount of separation pay entered on your DD Form 214 appears to be correct.

Since no other information is available, the Board assumes that the conclusion of NPC that you were assigned an RE-6 reenlistment code is correct. Further, there is no documentation to support your contention that the amount of separation pay you received is incorrect. Therefore, action by the Board to correct an RE-4 reenlistment code or to take action concerning separation pay is not warranted and your case is hereby administratively closed without action.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
