

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

TJR
Docket No: 4508-09
12 April 2010

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of Title 10, United States Code, Section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 6 April 2010. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You enlisted in the Navy on 8 June 2000 at age 17. You served without disciplinary incident until 11 January 2001, when you received nonjudicial punishment (NJP). However, the record does not reflect the offenses for which NJP was imposed.

Your record reflects a separation performance evaluation for the period from 16 June 2003 to 7 June 2004 which states, in part, that you were not recommended for advancement, retention, or reenlistment. Accordingly, on 7 June 2004, you were honorably released from active duty and transferred to the Navy Reserve. and were assigned an RE-4 reenlistment code. On 26 January 2008 you were honorably discharged at the expiration of your enlistment.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your youth and desire to change your reenlistment code.

Nevertheless, the Board concluded these factors were not sufficient to warrant a change in your reenlistment code because of your misconduct which resulted in NJP. Further, the Board concluded that your misconduct and nonrecommendation for reenlistment were sufficient to support the assignment of an RE-4 reenlistment code, which is authorized by regulatory guidance. Accordingly, your application has been denied.

The Board suggested that, if you wish, you may apply for a waiver of your RE-4 reenlistment code with branches of the armed forces other than the Navy.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

Executive
