

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
701 S. COURTHOUSE ROAD, SUITE 1001
ARLINGTON, VA 22204-2490

SJN
Docket No: 5106-14
4 June 2015

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10 of the United States Code, section 1552.

Although your application was not filed in a timely manner, the Board found it in the interest of justice to waive the statute of limitations and consider your application on its merits. A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 19 May 2015. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You enlisted in the Navy and began a period of active duty on 28 June 1976. During the period from 9 December 1976 to 7 February 1978, you received four nonjudicial punishments (NJPs). On 22 March 1978, a Physical Evaluation Board found you physically unfit to perform your duties and recommended that you be separated from the Navy. Subsequently, after being afforded all of your procedural rights, it was directed that you be separated from active duty. You received a general discharge on 12 April 1978.

Characterization of service is based in part on conduct marks assigned on a periodic basis. Your conduct average was 2.8. At the time of your service, a conduct average of 3.0 was required for a fully honorable characterization of service.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your record of service, desire to upgrade your characterization of service, and belief that your discharge would automatically change after six months. Nevertheless, the Board concluded these factors were not sufficient to warrant a change in your characterization of service given your misconduct resulting in four NJP's, and failure to attain the required average in conduct. Finally, you are advised that there is no provision of law or in Navy regulations that allows for recharacterization of a discharge automatically after six months or due solely to the passage of time. Accordingly, your application has been denied.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence within one year from the date of the Board's decision. New evidence is evidence not previously considered by the Board prior to making its decision in your case. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

ROBERT J. O'NEILL
Executive Director
