

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
701 S. COURTHOUSE ROAD, SUITE 1001
ARLINGTON, VA 22204-2490

SJN
Docket No: 671-14
24 February 2015

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10, United States Code, Section 1552.

Although your application was not filed in a timely manner, the Board found it in the interest of justice to waive the statute of limitations and consider your application on its merits. A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 3 February 2015. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You enlisted in the Navy and began a period of active duty on 10 September 1969. On 3 March 1970, you were diagnosed with an passive aggressive personality. At that time, it was determined that you did not require, and would not benefit from being hospitalized. On 6 April 1970, you were notified of pending administrative separation action by reason of convenience of the government due to the diagnosed personality disorder. You were afforded all of your procedural rights including the opportunity to submit a statement on your behalf. On 8 April 1970, your case was forwarded recommending that you be separated from the service. On 20 April 1970, your commanding general directed that you be separated by reason of unsuitability with a general discharge based on your service record. You were so discharged on 23 April 1970.

Characterization of service is based in part on conduct marks assigned on a periodic basis. Your conduct average was 2.4. At the time of your service, a conduct average of 3.0 was required for a fully honorable characterization of service.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your record of service, desire to upgrade your discharge, and decision made by the Department of Veterans Affairs. Nevertheless, the Board found that these factors were not sufficient to warrant a change in your characterization of service given your diagnoses of a personality disorder. Accordingly, your application has been denied.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence within one year from the date of the Board's decision. New evidence is evidence not previously considered by the Board prior to making its decision in your case. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

ROBERT J. O'NEILL
Executive Director
